

Knowledge Organiser Y3 Autumn Term 2

Big Question: How would it have been different to live as a child in Victorian Times?

TIMELINE

Victoria is born. 1819 	Victoria becomes Queen 1837 	Prince Albert Died 1861 	Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone 1876 	Illegal for children under ten to work 1878 	Victoria dies 1901
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

- Queen Victoria reigned as Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland for 63 years
- She had nine children, 4 boys and 5 girls.
- At the start of the Victorian era, children could be sent to work at a young age and used as cheap labour in mines and factories.
- Small boys would be driven up chimneys to clean out the soot – many died of lung disease while they were very young
- Punishments in school included the dunce cap, back straightener, foot stocks and the cane

VOCABULARY

Artefact	An man-made object of historical interest.
Coronation	The ceremony at which a king or queen is crowned
Evidence	Evidence is anything that can be used to prove something.
Factory	A factory is a building where workers use machines to make things for sale.
Parliament	The group of people who make the laws of a country.
Portrait	A painting, drawing or photograph of a person.
Victorian Era	The time when Queen Victoria was Queen
Workhouse	A place where very poor people could receive food and shelter in exchange for work.